For 12 years, Juvenile Court Book Club, Inc. has been providing its innovative program to teens in San Diego who are wards of the Juvenile Court residing in Girls Rehabilitation Facility, East Mesa Detention Facility and to boys and girls in Juvenile Hall.

We welcome new volunteers and are actively recruiting:

BOOK CLUB VOLUNTEERS AND DISCUSSION LEADERS: We are looking for adults who will read the selected books and participate in book club meetings with groups of young people. Our volunteers can sign up for whichever months they are available. The dates/times and reading lists are on our website for each of our four sites. We provide training and most volunteers come and participate in the book club meetings at least once before they lead the discussion. Our groups meet in a supervised group day room setting with teachers and staff present.

LITERACY TUTORS: Some of the youth we serve are in need of one-on-one reading tutoring. Tutoring takes place in the classroom or day room with teachers and/or staff present. Because of the one on one contact, background checks through the Probation Department are required.

BOARD MEMBERS OR VOLUNTEERS WITH SPECIAL TALENTS: We also welcome community leaders who can help through grant writing, fundraising, public relations, finding resources such as book donations, locating authors to speak to our young people, or any other specialized talent that could benefit the program and the youth we serve.

Contact us at the e-mail above, or through our website listed above. Your time and talents will be appreciated and well spent!
