Our mission is to unite the community to support literacy through advocacy, partnerships, resources, and coordination.

1. Promote and Support Literacy Services in San Diego County
2. Generate Resources that Support Literacy Programming
3. Instill the Importance of Literacy in San Diego County

WHERE RAISED FUNDS GO...

- Books for children
- Supplies and materials for literacy programs
- Marketing to enhance access to services and volunteer opportunities
- Referral services for literacy services recipients and volunteers
- Coordination of literacy campaigns in communities of high need
- Professional development for tutors, teachers, staff
- Enhancement of healthcare communications through literacy
- A more literate San Diego Region!

The network provided services to over 179,000 residents in the 2017 fiscal year.

The SDCOL literacy programs have been meeting every other month since 1986.

As a coordinator for the San Diego County Office of Education, I have been a member of the San Diego Council on Literacy for over 12 years. During that time SDCOL has supported me by referring hundreds of volunteers to my reading program. They have provided financial support, and offered many professional learning and networking opportunities.
