

Photo Competition for Literacy

Photos of San Diego Residents...reading!

The San Diego Council on Literacy hereby announces the start of its Second Annual Photo Competition for Literacy - a photographic representation of San Diego residents reading! We invite you to submit your own photo for this competition, to promote literacy... and for a cash prize!

Submission Guidelines

Please take a photo of people (one person or more), or a pet, reading somewhere in the San Diego region, in front of a visible San Diego landmark.

Send your photo to contact@literacysandiego.org

Submit your photo by October 31, 2023, 5:00 pm.

The winner will be announced on Friday, November 3, 2023.

We will post a selection of photos as they come in!

The Prize: $500 cash

Contest Rules

1. The photo must be of people (one person or more), or a pet, reading in the San Diego region and in a location that is well known.
2. Along with the photo, share what the person/people/pet are/is reading, where they are reading, and the first name of the person reading.
3. Share your contact information as submitter.
4. The person in the photos must be reading a physical book, newspaper, or magazine. We will not accept photos of people reading on their phone, computer, or tablet.
5. By entering the competition you allow the San Diego Council on Literacy to post your photo on its social media outlets, website, and to share with media outlets. We will always give you credit for your photo.
6. You must be 18 or older to submit a photo. If you are younger than 18, please have a parent or adult submit written consent for you to participate or submit the photo for you.
7. SDCOL staff and board members are welcome to submit photos but will not be eligible to win the prize.

Winning Photo Criteria

- Good photography
- An engaged reader
- An attractive or unique reading spot
- Creativity

Last year's winning entry

The winner of the San Diego Council on Literacy's 2022 Photo Competition for Literacy was Khanh Nguyen and her daughter, Kayla!

